1:00 p.m.— 2:30 p.m.

"Creating an Inclusive Environment for Gender Diverse Patients"

Moderated by George Grant, MDiv. Ph.D.

Featuring:

Vin Tangpricha, MD, Ph.D

Dr. Tangpricha is a board certified endocrinologist at Emory Clinic and Emory Midtown and Program Director of the Emory Endocrinology Fellowship Program. His interests include vitamin D, osteoporosis, endocrine disorders in cystic fibrosis and transgender medicine. Dr. Tangpricha is a graduate of Tufts Medical School and completed his medical residency, fellowship in endocrinology and Ph.D. in molecular medicine on the topic of vitamin D at Boston University. He was recruited to Emory in 2004. He provides clinical care for patients with vitamin D deficiency, osteoporosis, cystic fibrosis and gender dysphoria/transgender. Dr. Tangpricha is a physician scientist and is funded by the NIH and Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to study vitamin D in a number of health conditions. He also has received funding in collaboration with faculty members in the Emory School of Public Health to investigate health conditions in the transgender population. He has published over 200 peer reviewed research articles, reviews and book chapters. He serves on several national and international committees related to his clinical and research work.

Erin Swenson, ThM, Ph.D.

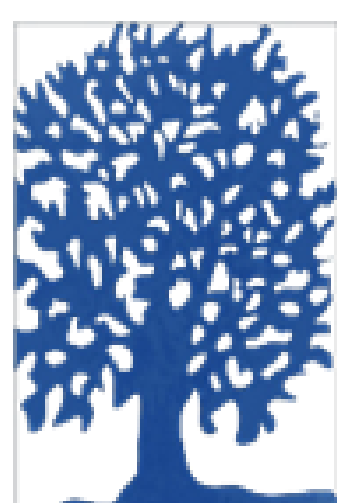

Rev. Dr. Erin Swenson has a PhD in psychology and practices as a pastoral clinical psychotherapist and Presbyterian Minister. She was the first minister in a mainline denomination to retain her ordination after gender transition in the Greater Atlanta Presbytery in 1996. Erin has more than four decades of experience working with individuals, couples, and families on issues ranging from divorce to gender transitions. She is a member of the World Professional Association for Transgender Health and is much sought after as an international speaker on topics of gender, gender and faith, gender transition, and human rights.
